To the Librarian:

1625002

This pamphlet contains a master chart and 16 detail charts forming a continuous strip or "family tree" about 24 feet in length, on which are listed the dates and names at birth of about 7,000 descendants of William Ford (1604-1676) as far as ascertained by the author during a search conducted between 1938 and 1945.

William Ford[1], emigrant with his mother "Widdo Ford" and other children came on the "Fortune", landing in New Plymouth Nov. 11, 1621. He operated a gristmill at Marshfield for many years and was buried in the Old Winslow Cemetery at Green Bay where a monument carries his name and that of his wife, Anna, together with the names of other early settlers of the colony. The stone is on a lot near the burial place of Daniel Webster who at his death in 1852, owned the old mill of Ford and Winslow.

The author first learned in 1936 of his above ancestry from Mrs. E.V.Howlett, genealogist of Pontiac, Michigan, and in 1938 visited the graves of William1 and William[2] at Marshfield, and of Deacon Joseph3 at Pembroke, Mass. While at Pembroke, one of many descendants who still live in the vicinity, referred me to Wm. Foord, attorney, of Litchfield, Connecticut, whom I soon after visited. Mr. Foord (whose family still retain the old spelling) showed me and later supplied a typed copy of extensive manuscript records and notes made by the late Dr. Corydon L.Ford prior to 1860 which he had given to William Foord's grandfather many years before.

Dr. C.L.Ford was a well-known lecturer at various medical colleges, Professor of Anatomy at the University of Michigan, and spent several years in the horse-and-buggy days before the Civil War in compiling a history of the Ford Family. He collected much data from old persons then living which at this time would be impossible to obtain except for his painstaking efforts for which all persons of the Ford name are deeply indebted. After his death, Dr. Ford's original records covering descendants of several early Ford emigrants, were given to the New England Historic Genealogical Society. William Foord's copy gave about 1,200 descendants of the emigrant William1 and from it I learned with surprise that two sisters of my grandfather, of whom I had never before heard, had, many years ago, settled in the Catskills at Lexington, N.Y., within a few miles of a summer home Mrs. Ford and I have owned for nearly thirty years without the slightest idea that more than 1,000 descendants of two great-aunts were living in the vicinity. This discovery and the added interest aroused by Dr. Ford's work, impelled me to devote whatever spare time was available to extending his work down to the present date.

All of the records have been typed on printed forms adapted for reproduction and it is my intention to deposit loose-leaf volumes at a number of the leading genealogical libraries throughout the U.S. These records contain over 600 pages, each of which gives two or more families with the line of descent, date and place of birth, death, marriage, etc., and is cross indexed with the page references to both preceding and following generations where the latter have been carried down.

Definite plans have not as yet been made nor date set for printed publication of the genealogy. In order to offer at the present time as much as possible of the accumulated data, and stimulate others to add thereto, I compiled this series of charts which show in condensed form the relationship of the various descendants. Copies of this pamphlet were sent December 25, 1945 with the author's compliments to many descendants who had assisted by supplying family records, etc. The transmittal letter requested descendants to record and transmit to the author, vital data, personal notes and photos for inclusion in the permanent record and to lend interest to the history when published.

Trusting the enclosed will be deemed worthy of preservation in your library, I am,

Very truly yours,

HCF/y

Hannibal C. Ford

This chart is very incomplete as many lines, especially of daughters and earlier generations, have not been traced, but is issued to fill out the present series which covers all descendents known to the author. It is hoped that some one may be interested and add as many as possible of the missing lines so that the chart may be amplified.

This chart, unlike others in this series, does not give descendants of the 4th, 5th and 6th generations (shown on chart 1), except those known to have descendants in the 7th generation. The chart is very incomplete as many lines, especially of daughters and earlier generations, have not been traced, but is issued to fill out the present series which covers all descendants known to the author. It is hoped that some one may be interested and add as many as possible of the missing lines so that the chart may be later amplified.

This chart, unlike others in this series, does not give descendants of the 4th, 5th and 6th generations (shown on chart 1), except those known to have descendants in the 7th generation. The chart is very incomplete as many lines, especially of daughters and earlier generations, have not been traced, but is issued to fill out the present series which covers all descendants known to the author. It is hoped that some one may be interested and add as many as possible of the missing lines so that the chart may be later amplified.
